V. Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement1. STATEMENT

Novelty (N)	Claims 2-3, 7-9, 11-13, 17, 19-21, 25	YES
	Claims 1, 4-6, 10, 14-16, 18, 22-24	NO
Inventive Step (IS)	Claims NONE	YES
	Claims 1-25	NO
Industrial Applicability (IA)	Claims 1-25	YES
	Claims NONE	NO

2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

Claims 1, 4-6, 10, 14-16, 18, 22-24 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Ravi et al. (6,282,274).

Ravi et al. discloses the apparatus for providing separable billing services (col. 1, lines 6-13; col. 4, lines 9-13) having a memory for storing an identifier, the identifier identifying a digital processing device connected to a data network, the identifier further assigned a communication type (col. 5, lines 6-9), and a processor for receiving a data packet, the data packet comprising an address, the processor for comparing the address to the identifier and for adjusting an account associated with the communication type if the address matches the identifier (col. 5, lines 10-12).

Ravi et al. further disclose the address having a destination address, a source address, and the processor is further for billing a second account, the second account associated with a second type of communication, if the address does not match the identifier (col. 5, lines 8-11).

Claims 2-3, 7-9, 11-13, 17, 19-21, 25 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Ravi et al. in view of Weisser (EP 0 706 743 A). Ravi et al., fails to explicitly disclose a transceiver for transmitting a message to an originator of the data packet informing the originator that the data packet was not sent to the digital processing device if the address does not match the identifier. Weisser discloses the concept of having a transceiver for transmitting a message to an originator of the data packet informing the originator that the data packet was not sent to the digital processing device if the address does not match the identifier (col. 15, lines 7-16; col. 24, lines 46-50). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Ravi with the data packet taught by Weisser in order to notify originator of failure.

Claims 1-25 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus meet industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.
